Blessing of the School Year

Summer’s winding up, and things certainly aren’t slowing down. Between everyone trying to get those ends of the summer trips in, getting into the back-to-school routine, and preparing to start our regular school year programming – I see people running around everywhere. Amid all of that this morning, as we turn our attention to God, we want to stop and pray His blessing over this school year and all of those who make it possible.

Tifton First has always been blessed with great educators, administrators, support staff, and students as part of the church family. Today we want to lift them up. At the same time, we want to gather as a church family around the table and celebrate Holy Communion. In all of your busyness in these crazy days, I hope you will find time to turn to God, giving Him thanks, and drawing from the deep well that’s ours in Him.

If you miss the craziness and don’t have enough to do, we are busy trying to jump through all the hoops we have to jump through to take the next steps in exiting the denomination. We can always use volunteers to help in the different projects we have going on. If you’re interested in helping and have the time, we’d love to have you. You can call the church office to be added to the volunteer list.

Last Sunday was a great start in this new season in the life of Tifton First! I can’t wait to see what God is going to do!

In Christ,
Chip
